

'A Little Goes a Long Way'
Song and Book by Ashley Mills Monaghan

When you want to pour your own juice every day,
When you want to help Mom and Dad in your own way,
There is one thing you can learn to say,
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.

Using just enough glue can be hard to do,
Pouring without spilling can be tricky too.
If you find yourself making a mess and feeling blue,
There is one thing you can always do.

Just remember those important words to say,
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.

CHORUS:

A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.

You overwatered flowers and now they're not growin'
The washing machine is full of suds and overflowin'
Careful with how much stuff you use,
Be it water, soap suds, fish food or glue,

Remember those important words to say
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.

CHORUS:

A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.

Remember even if you're feeling blue
About the mess you made with the paint or the glue
Mom and Dad will always love you
Just be careful with everything you do

Pour, scoop, spoon, you can do it all
Sing it out loud and proud and standing tall
I will always remember to say
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.

CHORUS:

A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.
A little, a little, a little, a little goes a long way.
